

Nebraska Youth Crop Scouting Competition - 2017

Nebraska Extension, with support from DuPont Pioneer & the Nebraska Independent Crop Consultant Association is pleased to bring you the 4th annual Crop Scouting Competition for Nebraska Youth. Students (those completing grades 7-12) from across Nebraska are invited to compete and showcase their scouting abilities in corn and soybean. The competition will be a one day event with both indoor and outdoor components.

Purpose:

- To provide students an opportunity to learn crop scouting and principles of integrated pest management (IPM) for corn and soybean in Nebraska
- To gain knowledge about the scouting, identification, and management strategies for diseases, insects, and weeds common to Nebraska crops
- To develop the ability to gather information and solve problems
- To demonstrate knowledge of crop scouting and IPM principles in a competitive event
- To obtain knowledge and skills that will be helpful in future careers related to agriscience and environmental sciences

Prizes: Monetary prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Location and date: The 2017 Crop Scouting Competition will be held at the UNL Agricultural, Research and Development Center (ARDC) near Mead, NE on August 1, 2017. The ARDC is located at 1071 Co. Rd. G, Ithaca, NE 68033.

Preparation: A set of IPM learning presentations and Extension publications are available to help prepare teams for the competition at <http://cropwatch.unl.edu/cropscoutingcompetition>.

Teams will be expected to know the basics of scouting corn and soybean fields. This includes crop staging and disease, insect, and weed identification, etc. Other topics may include, but are not limited to, pesticide safety, plant physiology, and nutrient disorders.

Teams: Each school, club, or other organization may enter one or more teams composed of three or four participants. FFA team members must all be from the same chapter. Each participant will participate in all phases of the event. Each team is responsible to provide whatever they will need to conduct field scouting. No scouting tools or supplies will be provided, but teams are welcome to bring the materials they will need to scout a field (i.e., tape measure, pest/disease ID guides).

Registration: Teams must register by July 20, 2017. To register, please fill out the form at the end of this document and follow the instructions found there. Teams will also be reimbursed for mileage, if funding allows.

Lunch, beverages, and snacks are provided.

Adult volunteer team supervisors: Each team of students will need to be accompanied by an adult team leader. This team leader will be responsible for supervising students when students are not involved in the event activities and transporting students to and from the competition.

Schedule: Registration and set-up begins at 8:15am and the contest will end by 2:00 pm. This schedule is approximate and is subject to change, as it is based upon registration numbers. A detailed agenda will be sent to registered teams before the contest.

Activities:

General Knowledge Test - 50 points

- Test questions will be on the information found in the Scouting Fields learning module, the 14 IPM presentations, and Extension Field Guides.

Crop Scouting Field Exercises - 200 points

- Teams will conduct field-scouting exercises for both corn and soybeans.
- 8-10 stations with 15 minutes allotted for each station
